

Almost 1,500 people gather in Miami to watch a Spanish film

November 17, 2017

Last night in Miami opened the seventh edition of Recent Cinema from Spain, held at the Olympia Theater, where nearly 1,500 people gathered to watch Spanish cinema. The film was selected "Abracadabra" by Pablo Berger. In addition, the public could know the Spanish actors who traveled from Spain: Carlos Santos and Javier Pereira, and the director Pablo Berger. Among other attendees they were at the opening gala TV presenter Boris Izaguirre, who moderated the discussion after the film, the consul of Spain in Miami Cándido Creis and film and television actors renowned in Miami. Samples of Spanish cinema Recent Cinema from Spain in Miami and Recent Spanish Cinema in Los Angeles have become for many Spanish productions at a special international platform. Thanks to the visibility it provides to its projections films and premieres in the United States are a key tool for future distribution. The seventh edition program includes seven films, two US Premieres. "The fog and the Maiden" (to be known as "The Mist & The Maiden"), "Fair dismissal" ("Dismissal"), "Villaviciosa next" ("Stroke of Luck"), "May God forgive us "(" May God Save Us ") and" Setback "(" the Invisible Guest ") are among the selected. This series will also feature screenings and special events that will include the screening of OZZY (Miami Premiere), a panel discussion with actors and directors invited to the film exhibition to be held at the Spanish Cultural Center in Miami and a special performance in the closing with the performance of Mastretta group, with the support of the Department of Cultural Industries of the Ministry of Culture of Spain and Spain Arts & Culture of the Embassy of Spain in Washington
