

Opening Night of Recent Cinema From Spain IV

Published on: November 20th, 2014 by SoFlaNights.com

Thursday, November 20, 7pm – The Olympia Theater,
174 East Flagler Street, Miami

Over 800 audience members celebrated Spanish Cinema at the historic Olympia Theater in Downtown Miami during the opening night for the annual Recent Cinema from Spain Film Series, with red carpet arrivals, the screening of "The Unexpected Life" ("La Vida Inesperada"), followed by a Q+A with screenwriter Elvira Lindo and a gala reception.

The evening began with red carpet arrivals of stars such as actor Juan Diego Botto ("Ismael"), actor Martino Rivas ("Three Many Weddings"), director Javier Ruiz Caldera ("Three Many Weddings"), screenwriter Elvira Lindo ("The Unexpected Life") and Miami-based music and television talent. Miami audiences enthusiastically received the opening night movie "The Unexpected Life" and screenwriter Elvira Lindo was warmly welcomed for her Q+A, as a great opportunity to mingle and socialize.

"We are proud to bring Recent Cinema from Spain to Miami for the fourth time now", says Elvi Cano from EGEDA US. "2014 has been a tremendously successful year for Spanish cinema, both artistically and in terms of box office numbers. We are happy to share these acclaimed films with Miami audiences".
